

Make the most of soil-applied nutrients with quality humic compounds.

Year after year, a loss in humic substances is making it harder for your crops to take up vital soil-applied nutrients. Humic substances are the horsepower behind soil nutrient availability. They help mobilize nutrients from the soil to the plant and have been proven to enhance plant growth.

Resurge is a low-dust granule that provides growers with humic compounds engineered to improve nutrient efficiency and strengthen plant growth with fast release of the active ingredient. Resurge contains the highest concentration of humic acids available from specific, high-quality ore sources. It helps prevent tie-up and releases nutrients bound in the soil. In nitrogen applications, Resurge also helps reduce leaching and volatilization.

With easy handling and compatibility with dry fertilizer, including urea, Resurge's uniform shape and size allows for even distribution in the fertilizer blend and across the acre. The low-dust granule breaks down quickly in the soil to deliver stronger in-season crop results and improve yield potential.
